

A RESOLUTION

By the Town Council of the Town of Elba, Ala., to provide funds to pay the cost of the improvements of the streets of the said Town now in process of construction.

Be it resolved by the Town Council of the Town of Elba, Ala., as follows:

1. That it is necessary to borrow money in order to provide funds to pay the cost of the improvements of the streets of said Town now in process of construction under ordinances regularly adopted by this body during the present year, 1926.
2. That the Mayor be and hereby is authorized and empowered for and in behalf of, and in the name of said Town, to negotiate a loan or loans of money not to exceed in the aggregate the total cost of said improvements, and to execute the note or notes of said Town for such loan or loans, which shall not run longer than a period of one year;
3. That the faith and credit of said municipality is hereby pledged for the same and prompt payment of said note or notes and in addition thereto there is hereby pledged the proceeds of the assessments, to be made against the property benefited by the improvements, together with the lien of the municipality thereon with power to enforce the same either at law or in equity and to the extent that the same may be done there is also pledged as security for the payment of said note or notes the general revenues of said municipality;
4. That the Mayor shall promptly report to this body his action hereunder, giving the date and amount of each loan made and of each note executed, and the date of its maturity, to whom payable, the rate of interest, which shall not exceed eight per cent per annum, and all other details.

Attest the 16th day of August, 1926.

E. F. Blocker, Mayor,
L. M. Ham, Clerk.

A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mrs. J. M. Kendrick entertained the little folks last Saturday P. M. celebrating her son, Lamar's 7th birthday at her home at Jack. When the guests arrived they were served sliced watermelon. NEWS IN BRIEF

An associate press dispatch says that "the apple crop larger than ever before known is confronting the United States. Early apples are so abundant that wholesale prices have gone as low as 50 cents a bushel."

Based on "intentions to plant," America should produce a bumper wheat crop next year. A long distance forecast is that the export surplus will be around 168,000,000 bushels as compared with 64,000,000 last year. Only in one year (1924) was the export above 168,000,000 bushels.

Pannonia of Friendship, a mature Jersey cow owned by King Pharr, Catherine, Ala., has completed her third official record and won her second gold medal. The test started when she was nine years and five months of age. Her record was 15,613 pounds of milk, and 725.10 pounds of butterfat. The Pharr herd of Jerseys ranks among the best in any state, it is said.

Usually pastures get short in September. Dairy cows, as well as other livestock will need more feed. It will pay to cut green crops and feed them at least once each day and better twice.—F. W. Burns, Extension Livestock Specialist, Auburn.

Coffee County Poor Houses
"The Poor You Have With You Always."
(By J. A. Carney)

In former articles feeble effort has been made to give some history of Coffee County Poor Houses. This article will deal with the question more in the light of present history and progress, reviewing some difficulties in County management of the "worst" governmental agency in our system of organized, but inefficient, provision for the poor.

The Present Administration

Prior to January 15, 1923, when the present administration began the Coffee County Poor House and Poor Farm had been for years located three miles west of Elba on the road leading from Elba to Dannelley's Cross Roads. The buildings consisted of two frame structures, the one occupied by the inmates of the almshouse being a mere "barn shack" and being poorly equipped and with no accommodations for proper care of the inmates of the home, and the other being occupied by the keeper or manager of the farm and inmates.

The old building used for the inmates had five rooms and three fire places. It was located between two hills and gave a dilapidated appearance to the eye. It was a miserable make-shift.

With some small repairs this building was continued to be used for a little over a year when a new home was purchased and the inmates removed to the new home on May 7, 1924. During this time three inmates were transferred to Tuscaloosa, namely, Agnes Stewart, Missouri Ward and Bob Fuquay. Agnes Stewart was a feeble minded girl of thirteen years old, and she was placed in the Home for feeble-minded children at Tuscaloosa.

Missouri Ward was insane and had been in the Coffee County Poor House for fifteen years, sitting alone in her room where her food was carried to her, many times having to be fed by the keeper of the house. She had since died at Bryce Hospital.

Bob Fuquay went to the poor house in 1923 and was soon transferred to the Bryce Insane Hospital where he has since died. During the first year of this administration two died at the poor house, namely: Mr. Warren Nolin and Mr. Henry Mallory, and the keeper Mr. J. A. Boutwell and his wife both died, their son, J. G. Boutwell succeeding them for a few months.

The New Home—"A Mansion for the Poor"

We usually associate the idea of a mansion with the home or dwelling of the rich, and not with the habitation of the poor. A new appellation is given to the Coffee County new home for the poor, namely: "Mansion for the Poor." This new home was purchased from Mrs. I. T. Law on "Law Heights" a mile from the Court House in the edge of the incorporation, high above the dampness of the little valley where in is located the Town of Elba and its beautiful Court Square. The "Mansion for the Poor" is situated on one hundred and fifty feet above Court Square.

It consists of ten acres square, with pasture and truck farm. When purchased there were: one nine room frame dwelling, one large barn, a garage a light plant, deep well and wind mill, having had installed the Deico Lighting system and sanitary sewerage. To this was built during the year of 1925 a new six room building for the housing of inmates, with porch connections, making accommodation for care of the inmates and a hospital room for the sick. An electric line was constructed by the County to this home and electric lights put in the entire building. A new wind mill was erected, but the supply of water from the old well, being inadequate, connection was made by water pipes with the Town reservoir and an electric motor installed a septic tank placed, and a complete sanitary system installed with bath tubs, laboratories etc., and now an adequate supply of water is had by touch a button. The home is clean and sanitary, convenient and comfortable. The inmates are well cared for and are happy.

There were carried from the old "Shack Home" to this new "Mansion for the Poor": Miss Eva Odum, Mrs. Jane Modlin, Miss Martha Mallory, Mrs. Mollie Morris, Mrs. Polly Stricklin, Mrs. Willie Rabon and little son, James Thomas McCoy and Mrs. Elia Brundick, a feeble minded person, who was later taken to Tuscaloosa and entered the Bryce Hospital for Insane. She is still there. Uncle Bob Floyd, of true and characteristic southern chivalry, was the first to be admitted to the "Mansion for the Poor" he having desired to go to the Soldiers' Home at Mountain Creek until he saw our new home, when he declared with emphasis: "I want to come here, Judge." He is there at this writing. Though afflicted he is happy.

Some Who Have Entered And Passed On

There were entered at the new home Mr. and Mrs. H. Hickman, Mr. Hickman being afflicted at the time of their entry there and later dying at the home. His widow left the home to live with her children after her husband's death. This was in 1925.

Mrs. Rosa Lee Dennis, whose husband had deserted her and two small children, stayed with her children in the Almshouse until they could get a home elsewhere.

Mr. William Johnson stayed in the home for awhile and left to stay with his niece, later dying. Mr. William T. Turner, demoted, was kept in the home for a few weeks until he could be transferred to the Bryce Hospital at Tuscaloosa, later dying Dec. 21, 1925.

Mrs. Lizzie Ballard, an old lady, years of age, was cared for in the home until her death in February 1926. Mrs. Sarah Jane Timmons was brought to the home very ill and died at G. Boutwell succeeding them for a few months.

Miss Eliza Powell who lived two days after being brought from Enterprise to the home and also Mrs. Sarah Lolly who was brought to the home in precarious condition and soon afterwards died; also Mr. Gid Jones who lingered for six weeks, being given to each the best medical attention.

In addition Messrs. John Ward John Pettus Jim Johnson Tom Williams Joe Mills and Mesdames Mollie Mills Nancy Catrett and Nancy Gray are now in the home, making the number now 14 enjoying the support and maintenance at the Almshouse. Several others have been cared for from time to time for periods of short duration including some children, until homes could be secured for them.

How Maintained

The Superintendent or keeper of the Home is Mr. Dock Prescott and his wife, and they are paid monthly $15 per each inmate in the home. The county furnishes all the clothes, beds and bed clothing and furniture for the inmates, and the

FARMERS BEGIN PLANTING VETCH

Auburn, Ala., Sept. 6 1926.

With the first of September another vetch seed planting season is on. Prof. M. J. Funchess director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn, says that a good rule is to plant vetch seed immediately following the first good rain after the first of September. This means that the planting should not be done until early October if no good rain falls until the time. However, earlier planting is better and is urged if seasons are right.

Another point emphasized by Prof. Funchess this year is that of deep planting. He recommends planting the seed at least two inches deep on one or two inch vetch, which is as yet a new crop in Alabama.

Inoculation is another important factor. It is absolutely necessary when planting vetch seed on land for the first time. Without inoculation vetch will not succeed. In the past, most failures have been due to a lack of inoculation.

Phosphatic fertilizers are also very beneficial to vetch. Experiments at Auburn and in cooperation with farmers through out the State have shown that vetch makes a big response to phosphatic fertilizers where needed. Either acid phosphate or basic slag may be used.

Prof. Funchess says that in all the experiments with hairy vetch basic slag has been as good as acid phosphate, and where a difference has been found it has been in favor of basic slag.

During the next six weeks the county agents of Alabama will spare much time advising farmers about planting vetch seed.

THE ELBA CITY SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY

The Elba schools opened Monday morning at nine o'clock. The opening exercises were held in the city school auditorium. Rev. T. C. Mahan, pastor of the Baptist Church, conducted the devotional. Short interesting and inspirational talks were given by Hon. W. M. Brunson, Judge J. A. Carney and Miss Jean Langston. These speakers predicted a most excellent year's work for the schools.

Prof. Dixon the new Supt. outlined some of his plans and made a splendid talk. In addition to a large student body there were a number of school patrons present. The enrollment of pupils to the present is a little over 100.

GOODRICH DEALERS DIRECT FACTORY REPRESENTATIVE

"The present method of the selling of automobiles by the standard and manufacturers several years ago brings to the motorists a benefit that is too often overlooked says Dorsey, local Goodrich Dealer.

"The big manufacturers, like the makers of Silverton, Cord, distribute their tires directly through a dealer organization. This organization is composed of dealers located in all parts of the country. They are in the nature of direct factory representatives, close to the customers and able to give quick and helpful service.

"Mail order houses sometimes cut the value of their factory-to-users plan of selling tires and there are some perhaps who fail to realize that the factory to mail order house to use. POLITICS NOT OVER IN COFFEE; COMMITTEE'S ACTION CREATES STRIFE
(Enterprise Ledger)

The Coffee County Democratic Executive Committee was reelected at Elba last Saturday, and thereby and therefore things came to pass which no doubt are very pleasing in some circles and equally displeasing in others.

It seems, according to the information given the Ledger, that W. M. Brunson, who was nominated for Representative, in filing his post primary expense account before a notary or clerk in the Probate Office, signed in due and correct form on the dotted line, but for some cause the words, "sworn to and subscribed before me on this....day of.....1926," was omitted from the affidavit. In view of this technical error, the Executive Committee has refused to certify Mr. Brunson's nomination.

Also in the case of D. C. Marley, nominated for Tax Assessor, he failed, in compliance with the Corrupt Practice Act to state whether or not any person or persons contributed to his campaign expenses, and for this reason the Executive Committee refused to certify to his nomination. The Editor of the Ledger has not talked to either Mr. Brunson or Mr. Marley concerning the Committee's action, but our information seems to be about right.

In the Brunson case the error, whether his or someone else's was and is merely technical, and had the Committee been so minded, in order to avoid friction and promote harmony, could simply have called his attention to the omission and he could have been remedied with no intent on his or the Committee's part to violate the letter or idea of the law. But some people in Coffee County—and they may properly be termed "die hards"—seem determined to keep strife rampant and it is not going to be a bit surprising to us if an independent candidate opposes Mr. Brunson in the general election in November.

In Mr. Marley's case the Committee's action is laudable. The fact that Mr. Marley did not state that any person or persons had contributed to his campaign is proof positive that nobody did. Judge Parks has stated privately to friends that it was not necessary for Mr. Marley to make any reference to this unless he had received contributions. Probably Mr. Marley will also have opposition in the general election. It would seem that the effort pointed to that direction.

Oh, well, it's about as good a time as any to have some independent test their popularity. We shall regret to see the above gentlemen aggravated by such flub-fub, but every so often it becomes necessary to nail some folks to a political cross to make them see the handwriting on the wall. Let 'em go ahead.

Indigestion
bad spells relieved

"NOTHING can take the place of Theodor's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky.

"When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."

"Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering."

"My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation."

"It is a splendid medicine." Sold everywhere, 25 cents.

County physician and County Health Officer look after the inmates. The County pays for the lights and water, and the keeper furnishes all wood and fuel, and washes for the inmates and cares for them and feeds them. It costs the County about $3000 a year to maintain these inmates at the home. The present home and property are valued at approximately $10,000. The home is paid for.

Poorhouse Worst Mismanaged

The Alabama system of County Poor Houses and Poor Farms should be speedily abolished. As a rule the County is too poor to own and operate poor houses. Experience in the past proves they are the "worst mismanaged public business in the world." They stand as a disgrace to the State. Alabama makes no provision for its poor. If these unfortunates are not cared for by the County they are out of luck. Alabama has a public school system for the education of our children. It has an institution for the insane and a home for feeble minded children. It has a State Department to encourage child welfare but Alabama has no "POOR HOUSE" for its paupers. The State exercises supervision over almshouses along with jails and prisons. It feeds its prisoners in jails and works and supports its convicts in penitentiaries. It takes first place in a modern penitentiary at Kilby. Surely legislators have been sleeping on their job when they raise no voice in behalf of the State's unfortunate poor, and the "poor ye have with you always."

What We Need in Alabama

What we need in Alabama is the establishment by law of consolidated eleemosynary districts for the care of the poor, like into consolidated school districts for the education of the children. Inmates of poor houses under the county system of supervision are inadequately supported, besides there is extravagant waste. The county must own and maintain expensive homes for the care of a few indigent or paupers. If we had ten to fifteen counties grouped or consolidated into districts and homes built at the expense of the State and maintained by the joint expenses of these counties, according to the number from each county kept in the District Almshouse, under a State supervision, the total cost would be decreased and thousands of dollars would be saved to tax payers. Besides, more decent and adequate provision could be had for these worthy unfortunates people poor.

Contract System

In a recent issue of the Literary Digest, under the heading, "A Move to Abolish the Poor House," are some startling revelations of the "hellish contract system." In only three States, Connecticut, Indiana and Utah is the contract system abolished or prohibited. In some cases the poor farm is operated with pauper labor. It is a species of slavery. The Commission of Public Welfare calls upon the American people to "wipe out the hellish system." Mr. Harry C. Evans of the United States Department of Labor says that the "contract system should be uprooted." In many cases the care of paupers is awarded to the lowest bidder.

County System Unwise And Wasteful

The practice of maintaining scores of poor-farms and poor-houses in the State is very expensive when more efficient, more economical and more scientific service could be rendered by consolidation and district almshouses. Sixty-seven separate farms and almshouses are too many for the number of inmates. About six to nine in the State would be adequate. Too much is now wasted either by investment or in maintenance. The system is unwise. A Pauper Welfare Commission should be provided, and all the paupers of the State taken in charge and properly cared for. The County could contribute so much per month for each pauper sent to the district home. No more important subject of legislation confronts the next legislature than that of the pauper problem.

Due to the work of the German people in placing on the market synthetic nitrogen for fertilizer and other purposes the Chilean Nitrate business is reported to be disturbed. A recent news dispatch from London says that the nitrate companies with shares listed on the London Stock Exchange fell 50 to 60 per cent in a few days, this being the worst crisis in the history of English nitrate companies. The slump was attributed to the sudden success of German chemists in making synthetic nitrogen.
